Hi Gary and Valmichael,

I got a couple questions from a reporter about the waste pits site. I think the answer to the first one is "yes," but I'm not sure how to answer the second one. Can you help?

1. Is the San Jacinto River Waste Pit in a tidally influenced area?
2. Has sea-level rise or land subsidence contributed to the problem or the amount of leakage there or complicated the repair work?

Thanks,
